The hail lasted about with ice stones varying in size from fifteen minutes, whitening the ground that of a marble to the dimensions of a hen egg. GUARDS EXPECTING CALL!

Citizen Soldiers May be Ordered Out at Any Hour—Recruits Coming Since Passage of Selective Draft Measure.

The officers and men of the local company of the Missouri National Guards are daily—almost hourly—expecting a call to the colors. The call may not come this week, maybe not next, but all consider that it will come.

About 15 recruits have been added to the company since its return from the Mexican border. These fill in the gaps caused by the discharge of men who are the only support of relatives who, without their support, would become dependents on the government.

No one seems to know where the company will mobilize when it is called, but it is considered probable that the mobilization point will be Nevada.

The men have been drilling regularly every Tuesday night for the past few weeks, about 25 per cent of the strength of the company showing up each night for drill. This keeps the men in shape and will cause them to go into the mobilization camps in much better condition than when they responded to first call last July.

Since the passage of the selective draft measure, many of the young men around town are favorably considering the Guards. By joining their home company they feel that they will be among a bunch of friends, which they think would be vastly preferable to being drafted into a strange regiment.

The status of a National Guardsman, now joining voluntarily, is that of a volunteer until the end of the unpleasantness with Germany. Since this is the case, the boys reason that it is better to join as a volunteer for the duration of the war than to wait and be drafted for an indefinite term.—Sarcoxie Record.

The bride was gowned in white crepe de Chine and carried a shower of bride's roses. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William E. Sullens of Harrisonville, Mo., a brother of the groom. Following congratulations, the bride and groom led the way to the dining room where the wedding supper was served. The dining table held an art basket of apple blossoms and ferns which were also used profusely in decorations throughout the house. About 25 guests were present. Those from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Squibb and family of Bois D'Arc. Dr. and Mrs. Homer Frame and family of Cave Springs, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. IN MEMORY

Beulah Elizabeth Griffith was born February 1, 1913, and died April 9, 1917, age 4 years, 2 months and 8 days.

Little Beulah was a bright little girl and was loved by all who knew her. All through her sickness she was a patient sufferer. She is not dead, for the little bud is blooming in paradise.

Although she will be sadly missed we shall not forget her nor shall we forget her little resting place, and when the roses bloom, let us put a wreath on the little mound, as a token of remembrance and love.

THREATENED INVASION

There will be an invasion of this section in the near future by an enemy army which every farmer must prepare for. Forts, troops and big guns will not stop them, and they will strive day and night to assist our enemies in trying to reduce our crops for this year. They may be slaughtered in great numbers, but new recruits will spring up and only ceaseless work and religious and careful planning will avail against them.

This army will be composed of several races who will unite and fight to the last ditch, and if not subdued will do our country greater harm than all the spies, slackers, and other enemies united. There is no jealousy in this army and each one will strive to injure our crops in every way. This army is made up of recruits from the large family of weeds of all sorts and the supply of recruits is inexhaustible.

The greatest damage will be done by their robbing our crops of moisture and plant food. Get your cultivators, harrows and other weapons ready and kill them while they are young, and don't let them have a chance. It requires, at least, 300 pounds of water to grow one pound of dry matter so this must be saved for our crops and not allowed to go to the enemy.
